You can trade all domestic stocks, bonds and other securities using your Account. You can place market and good-till-cancelled order types. Trade confirmations are mailed automatically after every trade. Current quotes, account and order information are available by telephone in Nassau 603-6000 from 9am-5pm daily.

Dividend/Interest Collections

Rest assured your investments dividend/interest has been received. You can also avoid accidental spending by separating them from your regular bank account.

Custody of Security

RF will provide safe custody of your securities at no cost to you. As the securities are held by us, trades can be executed quickly and efficiently without the delay of having to locate share certificates and having the signature(s) guaranteed.

Margin Loans

RF offers instant access to credit through its margin loan facility secured by the assets held in your RF Brokerage Account. The margin facility is limited to 45% of the value of the assets in your Brokerage Account at the time the facility is established, but will be permitted to increase to a maximum level of 50% before a margin call is made. Should the margin exceed 50% of the assets, you will be required to either sell assets or deposit funds or shares to re-establish a 45% position. The margin loan facility is annually renewable at RF's sole discretion.

No Fixed Loan Repayment

There is no required monthly or annual repayment as long as the balance remains under 50% of your portfolio value.

Margin Loan Facility Fees

A low annual credit facility fee based on the margin requirement (a minimum fee of $100) is payable annually in advance and on renewal of the margin loan facility.

Low Interest Rates

Benefit from low rates by using your portfolio to secure the loan.

Managing Your Money

Managing your money requires more than investing. It requires access to a range of services that make your financial life easier by providing:

- Convenience in the way you handle your money;
- The flexibility to deal with a wide range of investments matters;
- Access to services that give you a greater choice in the way you actively manage your finances.

Trading Requirements

With a RF Brokerage Account you can trade in Bahamian and international securities. To sell a security, it must be held in your account prior to placing an order. There must be sufficient funds in your account when making purchases. To buy or sell a security, you must send an email confirmation.

Making Security Deposits/Withdrawals To/From Your Account

There is no charge for making security deposits to your account. If you choose to have the securities delivered to you or another party, there will be a delivery charge.

Your Brokerage Account: A Single Transaction Account

Your Brokerage Account is the hub of your money management activities. Deposits, including investment dividends and the proceeds from any sale of securities, go into your Brokerage Account. You'll have ready access to this cash for securities purchases and mutual fund investments. Withdrawals of all types are deducted from the account cheques, external transfers, and any transaction fees.

Automatic Account Builder

This feature lets you set-up regular transfers to a mutual fund position or for additional investments within your Brokerage Account.

Savings

Commissions Savings Every Time You Trade

With your RF Brokerage Account, you'll see substantial commissions savings compared to standard rates every time you trade.

Low Margin Rates

When you wish to borrow on margin, you may do so efficiently through your RF Brokerage Account and enjoy competitive rates. You can use margin borrowing as a way to purchase additional securities, to provide overdraft protection or as a low cost alternative to other credit options.

Low Annual Fees

For a small fee, payable annually in advance, RF will provide safe custody services and interest on your securities, provide free online access to your account statements and provide daily market updates.

With a RF Brokerage Account, you won't be spending a lot on commissions, margin interest and account fees. So you'll have more money to put to work for you.
