The Benefit of Equity Exposure

The Fund's performance versus the benchmark has been impressive. Over the last year the Fund returned 10.41% vs -2.62% for the benchmark. Over the last 5 years, the Fund has averaged 6.53% per annum versus 1.84% for the benchmark.

The Fund's outperformance is due to the tactical asset allocation decisions. In 2021 the Fund overweighted equities with a focus on companies we expected to benefit from the Covid-19 pandemic.

Currently 51.3% of the Fund's portfolio is invested in equities, with the balance invested in fixed income. The target allocation is 40% equities and 60% fixed income, but over the last 15 months no attractive new fixed income securities have come to market, so cash was invested in undervalued equities.

Over time the Fund will rebalance its asset allocation to the target 40/60 split, but the timing of this will depend on attractive new fixed income securities coming to market.

The Fund's largest sector exposure is the financial services sector, with 18.5% of the total portfolio invested in local banks. After taking significant loan loss provisions in 2020, banks realized a strong comeback with a high proportion of provisions being written back in 2021.

Investment opportunities in fixed income remain limited, but several local stocks remain attractive investments. These stocks are trading at reasonable multiples and offer attractive dividend yields in the current low interest rate environment.

We expect for the equity market to drive the Fund forward through the first half of 2022 and new private fixed income offerings come to market in mid 2022, which will also help drive returns and allow the Fund to rotate from equities to fixed income.
